Just spoke with Jen Sullivan, and she said you two were fantastic to work with last night. Thank you.

She shared other information, too, that I'd like to debrief with you whenever we can catch a minute.

Schellenberg, Dawn 7/27 7:40 AM

That is kind of her. She was very accessible last night and I'd like to debrief.

I'm so sad this AM.

Spangenthal-Lee, Jonah (MOS) 7/27 8:51 AM

yes, I've offered Jen help this AM however I can. I think they might be bringing eric munoz back for a day, but it was inevitable something like this happened with how that shop has been managed...

7/27 9:30 AM

Chief and I spoke candidly this morning. He is aligned on issues.

Chief, I hope you're doing well.

We're trying to run to ground why an AlertSeattle alert didn't do our last night. According to Andrew Stevens, the information he received was that Staff Duty Officer John Zuber reached out to the SPD Comms Center at 684-8640 at 1912 hrs to offer assistance but was declined. Do you have any insight into who likely spoke with him?

Barden, Amy 7/27 7:18 PM

Hi there, that sounds very odd. Let me look into it.

Barden, Amy 7/27 7:27 PM

The short story is the OEM takes the alert order from SFD or SPD, we would never have authority to issue it

SPD media relations has the ability to issue the alert directly, which is always how it happens if its law enforcement related. CARE has never issued a geofenced alert, we don't have that jurisdiction

Barden, Amy 7/27 7:39 PM

Sorry I didn't see the question earlier!!

We definitely need to clarify with OEM procedure if there is confusion about who can order the alert, I don't know why they would have contacted us at all. Nobody in dispatch is trained to do a geofenced reverse notification to the community.

We are allowed to do internal alerts only (like to SPD command and MO staff etc)

- Thank you for joining yourself and Chief Bureau for the latest information on this ongoing investigation. I appreciate your partnership in sharing what we are in this investigation.
- We continue to make sure victims receive the care and resources they need.
- Yesterday, the medical examiner reported the identities of those victims: 56-year-old Ashley Whitehead, 44-year-old, Cadence Jarrell Sanchez Williams, and 19-year-old Junior Cole Nika Sima.
- Except for the 19-year-old who we believe was involved, we understand that all others who have passed, or are injured, were gay, bisexuals.
- Thank you to those who organized and attended the vigil on the Seattle Center campus

Mayor Wilson's Statement on Seattle Center Shootings

What happened today at the Seattle Center was an act of horrific violence.

Impacted families are living through the worst moment of their lives, and an entire community is trying to understand how a gathering built around culture, connection, and joy ended in gunfire.

No one should have to weigh the risk of being shot before attending an event, gathering with friends, or experiencing their city.

Our first responsibilities are supporting grieving families, caring for the injured, and providing clear and accurate information for the public.

I want to thank the Seattle police officers who responded to the scene and took one suspect into custody. I also want to recognize Seattle firefighters and medical personnel at Harborview who are treating the injured, as well as Seattle Center and event staff and bystanders who helped people reach safety and provided aid in terrifying circumstances.

7/26 8:20 PM

Great statement. If possible to add Harborview's contribution to transported victims, that would be helpful to other work we need to do with them.

Good afternoon,

I am Nicole Powell, the assistant chief of investigations here at the Seattle Police Department.

I want to give you an update on the tragedy at the Seattle Center last night.

This is all preliminary information subject to change. This investigation is active and ongoing; our detectives are working tirelessly on this case.

At this point we believe this could be gang related.

There were two groups firing in the area near the Armory during the

Talking Points

- Thank you for returning today.
- I heard the call for more frequent updates about the shooting last night at Seattle Center and our ongoing investigation. I too want to be transparent, so I've called this press conference and will hold another tomorrow at noon in this same location.
- Right now, tensions are high and there is a lot of sensitive work to do. I've asked Assistant Chief Nicole Powell, who is in charge of the Investigation Bureau to present with me this afternoon. She is leading these investigations.
- We continue to make sure victims receive the care and resources they need.

Talking Points

- Thank you for joining myself and Chief Barnes for the latest information on this ongoing investigation. I appreciate your partnership in sharing where we are in this investigation.
- We continue to make sure victims receive the care and resources they need.
- Yesterday, the medical examiner reported the identities of those victims: 56-year-old Ashley Whitehead, 44-year-old, Carlos Ismael Sanchez Vilalba, and 18-year-old Junior Cee Niko Serna.
- Except for the 18-year-old who we believe was involved, we understand that all others who have passed, or were injured, were bystanders.
- Thank you to those who organized and attended the vigil on the Seattle Center campus.

City colleagues,

Today, I'm writing you not only as your mayor, but as someone who shares in the grief that so many of us are carrying right now. Yesterday's shooting was a profound tragedy. We are grieving for those whose lives were taken, those who were injured, and everyone who loves them. We also recognize how deeply an act of violence like this affects all of our colleagues, our families, and the community we serve.

I appreciate how our city stepped up yesterday. Our first responders, including at SPD, SFD and CARE's 311 center acted swiftly and courageously, and employees across city government including our Seattle Center staff worked under extraordinarily difficult circumstances to help our communities. I am deeply grateful to every city employee who

Seattle Center Info

Sharing some info that may be helpful for you today.

- What we are doing:
 - All media inquiries about the SC incident will be forwarded to the MO. I do not plan to answer any questions related to this incident.
 - The OED Special Events Office is drafting a holding statement to share with permit applicants who reach out with questions.
 - Something like, "The Special Events Committee is in communications with Mayor Wilson and the Seattle Police Department. No changes are being made to your event or permit application at this time, We will communicate with you directly if any aspect of your permit or your event logistics require further review."
 - OED is not yet planning on sending any formal communications to event permit applicants.
- What you should know:
 - Seattle Center events are permitted by the Seattle Center, not the Special Events Office.
 - The Special Events Office only issued permits for Bite for the limited sidewalk and street use around the Seattle Center.

Schellenberg, Dawn 10:00 AM

Sounds like the campus is back open but not the armory for awareness

Moss, Eric 10:10 AM Edited

We have a question for you real quick about our weekly Good News Downtown Newsletter. It is very popular with the Downtown community. It focuses on positive things that happen from the stadiums/C-ID to the Seattle Center. Beto asked me to ask the MO if we should send the newsletter tomorrow or not. We are leaning toward NOT sending a newsletter this week.

Pros:

- A lot of other good things happened DT last week, most notably the excellent Torchlight Parade on the Waterfront.
- It is good to remind people that good things happen in Seattle, too. We don't want the news cycle to be completely dominated with bad news.

We have a question for you real quick about our weekly Good News Downtown Newsletter. It is very popular with the Downtown community. It focuses on positive things that happen from the stadiums/C-ID to the Seattle Center. Beto asked me to ask the MO if we should send the newsletter tomorrow or not. We are leaning toward NOT sending a newsletter this week.

Pros:

- A lot of other good things happened DT last week, most notably the excellent Torchlight Parade on the Waterfront.
- It is good to remind people that good things happen in Seattle, too. We don't want the news cycle to be completely dominated with bad news.

Cons:

- It could be seen as tone deaf if we send a Good News Downtown newsletter, given what happened at the SC this weekend.

Context:

- In the past we have sent our newsletter without fail regardless of what has happened.
- Our thinking is that in order to rehabilitate Seattle's lingering COVID-era perceptions, we need to be consistent in messaging about the good things that are happening.

We need to know ASAP because our staff and our contractors are in a holding pattern waiting for an answer.

Talking Points

- Thank you for joining myself and Chief Bamez for the latest information on this ongoing investigation. I appreciate your partnership in sharing where we are in this investigation.
- We continue to make sure victims receive the care and resources they need.
- Yesterday, the medical examiner reported the identities of three victims: 56-year-old Aubrey Whitehead, 44-year-old, Carlos Jesus Sanchez Valtia, and 19-year-old junior Geo Niko Somo.
- Except for the 19-year-old who no longer was involved, we understand that all others who have passed, or were injured, were bystanders.
- Thank you to those who organized and attended the vigil on the Seattle Center campus.

Impacted families are living through the worst moment of their lives, and an entire community is trying to understand how a gathering built around culture, connection, and joy ended in gunfire.

No one should have to weigh the risk of being shot before attending an event, gathering with friends, or experiencing their city.

Our first responsibilities are supporting grieving families, caring for the injured, and providing clear and accurate information for the public.

I want to thank the Seattle police officers who responded to the scene and took one suspect into custody. I also want to recognize Seattle firefighters and medical personnel at Harborview who are treating the injured, as well as Seattle Center and event staff and bystanders who helped people reach safety and provided aid in terrifying circumstances.

Thoughts for statement: "We know that we cannot solve gun violence in one city alone. We must also keep pushing for action at the state and federal levels to dramatically reduce the number of guns in our communities and keep them out of the hands of people who wish to cause harm. But we are also not helpless as a city, and we must do more to end the gun violence that has already taken far too many lives this year in Seattle. I want to appreciate our City Attorney Erica Evans for her leadership in beginning to use Extreme Risk Protection Orders to take guns away from people at high risk of committing violence. And... If we don't have a definite answer for you, I'd defer to SPD for a response.

Edited

From, Matt: they do have "limited cameras" and SPD is trying to pull them.

Schellenberg, Dawn 10:16 PM

Wilson, Mayor our understanding is it just you and SPD at the media debrief. If Kettle is still there I'd expect him to join. I'm unclear if you will have a speaking role or answer Q&A/ We are working on a few at the end of the statement doc.

Seattle Center 4PM Press Release

July 27, 2025

Talking Points

- Thank you for attending today.
- I heard the call for more frequent updates about the shooting last night at Seattle Center and our ongoing investigation. I too want to be transparent, so I've called this press conference and will hold another tomorrow at noon in this same location.
- Right now, tensions are high and there is a lot of time-sensitive work to do. I've asked Assistant Chief Nicola Powell, who is in charge of the Investigation Bureau to present with me this afternoon. She is leading the investigation.
- We continue to make sure victims receive the care and resources they need.

Sullivan, Jennifer 3:04 PM

Happy to help!

Investigations are continually evolving during the first hours, and information can change by the minute. It was important to confirm as many facts as possible so up to date and accurate information could be shared with the media and public

Seattle Center Rem...*Mayer Wilson's Statement on Seattle Center Shootings

What happened today at the Seattle Center was an act of horrific violence.

Impacted families are living through the worst moment of their lives, and an entire community is trying to understand how a gathering built around culture, connection, and joy ended in gunfire.

No one should have to weigh the risk of being shot before attending an event, gathering with friends, or experiencing their city.

Our first responsibilities are supporting grieving families, caring for the injured, and providing clear and accurate information for the public.

I want to thank the Seattle police officers who responded to the scene and took one suspect into custody. I also want to recognize Seattle firefighters and medical personnel at Harborview who are treating the injured, as well as Seattle Center and event staff and bystanders who helped people reach safety and provided aid in terrifying circumstances.

Mayor Wilson's Statement on Seattle Center Shootings

What happened today at the Seattle Center was an act of horrific violence.

Impacted families are living through the worst moment of their lives, and an entire community is trying to understand how a gathering built around culture, connection, and joy ended in gunfire.

No one should have to weigh the risk of being shot before attending an event, gathering with friends, or experiencing their city.

Our first responsibilities are supporting grieving families, caring for the injured, and providing clear and accurate information for the public.

I want to thank the Seattle police officers who responded to the scene and took one suspect into custody. I also want to recognize Seattle firefighters and medical personnel at Harborview who are treating the injured, as well as Seattle Center and event staff and bystanders who helped people reach safety and provided aid in terrifying circumstances.

FYI - Mayor's office team is working late in response to Seattle Center shootings, and may need to do a press conference in the AM. We will be in touch in the morning on whether and how that impacts budget discussions (TBD), but wanted to give you a heads up that a lot is moving in real time.

Monday, July 27

Pennucci, Aly 7/27 6:08 AM

Thank you, we will of course be flexible and will adjust as needed.

7/27 6:33 AM

I am gathering the public safety team at 8:30 hear the latest info and make a call on whether there is a late morning press conference (desire was to do one last night). My guess is that we will start budget convo as planned at 9am and may need to bump some of the topics to afternoon. But will keep you posted. Probably best to move us to Historical for the morning, to keep Norm Rice available for press if needed

Pennucci, Aly 7/27 6:34 AM

OK - I'll have Shino coordinate the move and just getting a note out to my team

Hi Nana. We are working to pull together an email to all City employess related to yesterday's shooting at Seattle Center. I'm wondering if you can take a look? I think we need better language related to EAP (likely we have written this before from past similar events).

Here's the draft language on the section that talks about EAP.

Please take care of yourselves and one another in the days ahead. Employees who need support are encouraged to use the resources available through [EAP program].
This email is going to come from the Mayor so it has a more familiar tone. But I want to make sure we get the EAP and other resource language correct.

Mendez, Nana 7/27 10:40 AM

Hi Mark, do you have the EAP info or plan to add it? I can ask our comms person in SDHR to check what we had in the past. I have the EAP info and can send it to you.

7/27 10:41 AM

I don't have it. I think if we can have your Comms person grab past EAP language from similar traumatic events that would be helpful.
